FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 19.

TEXAN MURDERERS CONVICTED—A dispatch from San Antonio, Texas, says:—There was a fearful scene in the court room yesterday afternoon. Three men—named Cox, Ryan and Sittler—murdered an old man named Brzill and his son, in De Witt county, in 1867. There was a party of about fifteen who took them out of their homes and shot them to death. It is hard to conceive of a more horrible murder. The old man was dying of consumption when he was killed. By a change of venue this case was brought to Bexar county for trial and had occupied nearly a week, a number of the best lawyers in Western Texas being engaged on each side. Yesterday afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, which means the prisoners have to hang. When the verdict was announced the female relatives screamed so as to be heard for a long distance and the wives of two of them fainted. The prisoners were handcuffed together and removed. Three more of the implicated parties are to be tried soon. There is universal satisfaction at the result, as the habits and lawless retention of life had become alarmingly frequent of late.

This property is without improvements, but is eligible located, and as a building spot desirable.

Also ONE ACRE near Anandale, adjoining Mr. Bladen. For a description of this lot reference is made to Mr. Jas. Creek, who lives near the same.

Terms of Sale:—Enough cash, say $50, to pay costs and expenses of sale, and the residue in one, two and three years, equal instalments, to bear interest from the day of sale, to be secured by the notes of the purchaser, with good personal security, and retention of title until the last payment is made.
